NAZIS SLAY CHANCELLOR DOLLFUSS OF AUSTRIA

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS
MUST BE MOVED OUT OF DROUGHT AREA, MEAD SAYS

NOTHING GREEN

IN FOUR STATES

Officials Are Visibly
Worried as Problem
Becomes Serious

Washington, July 25.—(P)—Visibly worried over the drought situation, Secretary Wallace said today three more weeks without rain in the parched areas would mean a "really serious" crisis.

He reviewed the situation at a press conference which followed moves by his department and other government agencies to meet the emergency caused by the combination of a blazing sun and clear skies.

Among the developments was a statement by Dr. Elwood Mead, reclamation commissioner, that tens of thousands of persons must be moved out of the western half of the Dakotas and eastern Montana and Wyoming.

The farm administration, the surplus relief corporation and the federal relief administration were busy with plans for speedy disposal of cattle bought by the government and outlining other relief steps which may be taken in the midwest.

Some Distressed Eased

Secretary Wallace insisted the crop curtailment efforts of the farm administration had alleviated some of the drought distress.

"On the whole our actions have eased to a marked degree what otherwise would have been the effects of the drought," he said.

He said the slaughter of pigs had resulted in the saving of approximately 50,000,000 bushels of corn; the corn loan program had increased the price and decreased consumption and the taking of land out of wheat had increased the amount of pasture available. The need of feed is one of the principal concerns in the stricken area.

Corn tassels, the secretary said, are turning white in some parts of Kansas, Missouri and southern Iowa and there will be little grain in these fields. A good rain during the coming week would mean a fair corn crop but every day beyond that would cause anything approximating a normal yield to recede further and further.

The secretary said the drought might distort the judgment of many "people in terms of ordinary weather," but that the situation in 1936 and 1937 should be kept in mind in any discussion of abandoning crop adjustment plans.

Dr. Mead, who returned to the capital yesterday from a tour of the drought-bitten area said "there is nothing left, no green things. It is gone."

He said the land should be abandoned by farmers, re-seeded to buffalo grass and that eventually it would be generally fair.

Dollfuss Slaying
Occurs on Famous
Anniversary Date

By the Associated Press

The assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss in Vienna was just 20 years to a day from the fateful date on which Austria-Hungary broke off diplomatic relations with Serbia as a consequence of another assassination—the one that led to the world war.

Pages of history rippled back to that July 25 in 1914 when Austria severed its ties with the neighbor nation of Serbia and mobilized eight army corps. Serbia was held by Austria to have fomented indirectly the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary.

Justice

A receiver sits in the room that was once the office of the president of the Ayers National Bank. Employees of the U. S. Comptroller move about behind the cages formerly occupied by tellers and bookkeepers. The vaults are bare of cash; the seven thousand men and women, even children, who entrusted their savings to the bank during its years of operation have received but ten per cent of their deposits.

The president and a vice-president of the bank are under sentence to a federal penitentiary. It is but a matter of a few days, according to an order by the court, until they will enter prison to stand for their acts before the bank's collapse.

It is a dreary picture, this failure of the city's largest financial institution of the distress it has brought to some, and suffering to all. A picture that has been too real, its stark outlines forming a period in the community's history that no person deserves to view again.

But justice is not blind. It seeks out those responsible for the suffering of others and exacts its penalties in unerring fashion.

The sentence of M. F. Dunlap and Andrew Russel to spend 18 months in Leavenworth is an example of justice, calmly and dispassionately imposed by the United States court. It is not a sentence by a wronged community, but a severe reprimand from a tribunal of the land in which the facts only are considered.

The average Jacksonville citizen feels that the court acted wisely. The community's faith in justice and the law is renewed, now that the Ayers bank fiasco has fallen squarely on the shoulders of those to whom it belongs.

One more important chapter remains to be written in the record of the bank's rise and fall, before justice is entirely appeased. Every depositor should realize every penny that can be salvaged from the wreckage. There should be no let-up in efforts towards this direction. Additional dividend checks will not only be welcomed in hundreds of homes, but will help the county to forget one of the most bitter experiences in its history.

An Officer Slain

The death of Russell A. Leidy, Los Angeles police officer, comes as a shock to his friends and relatives here. He was well known locally, having been reared here and enlisted from this city for service in the world war. For most of his life he has been in some way connected with public service, having served as a member of the local fire department, as military policeman overseas and as a member of the Los Angeles police force.

He died in line of duty, shot down by a couple of "young punk" bandits as a climax to a night of crime, during which they committed robbery, kidnapping and murder. The determination of Dist. Atty. Buron Pitts to send both to the gallows is not surprising. If California hangs these criminals, it will do the country a service.

The life of a policeman is not bed of roses, and every man on the force earns his money and much more, no matter where he serves. Russell Leidy made the supreme sacrifice as much as did ever any soldier of the line. He served his country faithfully and did his duty courageously.

Heat and Snow

Fifty miles from Denver, Colo., tourists on Mount Evans had a snowball fight Tuesday. An inch of snow fell just another of the freak shows that section has been experiencing the past week. Meanwhile in Illinois the mercury has touched the brackets above a hundred degrees for seven consecutive days.

Verily our country produces varieties in climate, and the end is not yet. We cannot tell whether we are going to burn up, blow away or freeze to death.

When it's as hot as it has been the past few weeks, we'd like to see a little snow, but in the winter when the snow lies thick on the ground and it gets to be 28 degrees below zero, we'd like to have Old Sol turn on more heat. Not that man is hard to please; he simply cannot be satisfied with extremes.

We do know that the present heat wave calls for some suggestions as to the care of animals. They should be given plenty of water, if it is possible. Reports are coming in from the farms in the county that animals are dying of heat. Water is the only remedy for this condition, and the animals should also have good shade to protect them from a sun that appears to have no mercy.

Court vs. PressThe New Deal in Washington

It is unfortunate that courts of this country do not always admit the constitutional rights of the press. Down in Danville, Ky., a police judge, with small jurisdiction, but mighty ambition, has sentenced to jail Jack Durham and Wesley Cartt, editor and reporter on the staff of the Danville Advocate, who refused to tell him what he wanted to know. The boys spent three hours in jail Thursday and paid $10 fines Monday. They were subject to jail sentence every time they refused to answer the magistrate's questions.

The reporters obtained advance information that the Congressman from that district was to be hanged in effigy. The job was done by citizens who did not like the Congressman, and somehow or other the police judges, wishing to inquire into the matter, found out the reporters knew about it before it happened. They wouldn't tell him where they got their information.

It was a trivial matter, but it served the court in its desire to show petty authority over the press. Because the reporters refused to violate a code as ethics as sacred as law itself, this judge, who evidently has no code of his own, sent them to jail. What difference it made who hanged the Congressman in effigy is to be discovered. Perhaps the Congressman himself will find out at the polls next fall.

Plight of the Drouth Area

St. Louis Post-Dispatch—The Government has moved promptly in seeking to meet the emergency created by the unparalleled drouth in the Middle West and Northwest. Available relief funds have been stretched to the utmost in assisting destitute families, buying surplus stock, making seed loans, supplying feed, etc. Realizing that much more will be needed before the situation returns to normal, the President has called for a $525,000,000 emergency fund, which Congress should not delay granting. Some 50,000 farmers have gone to work on relief projects for cash, and 150,000 in all will be so emphasized by the end of the week. Meanwhile, plans are being made for buying up sub-marginal lands and moving populations from the sections where crops are ruined.

This is an unexpected aggravation of the already grave national relief problem. It is fortunate, however, that efficient machinery is available that may be extended to cover the needs of the drouth regions. The Government is doing its duty in accepting the relief responsibility, for, as Walter Lippmann pointed out in his article yesterday, "we now recognize that to protect the farmer against natural calamities or economic convulsions is a social duty." Our people have always rallied quickly to assist whenever the cry for help went up, either within our borders or in a foreign land, and that fine tradition again is observed here.

Another jolly party included Housing Administrator James Moffett, White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre, Assistant Treasury Secretary Chip Robert, the lobbyist for the Westinghouse interests, Col. R. W. Crawford of PWA, and a certain Lieutenant of Boss Lobbyist Bob Hodges.

Hot? Slander, Says Hodges

Senator McAdoo's divorce by Woodrow Wilson's daughter surprised no one here. But it shocked Mr. Curtis Hodges when he read that Mrs. McAdoo had mentioned "the unbearable Washington climate" in her complaint.

Hodges is director of the Board of Trade's tourist-building committee, charged with selling Washington to the world. By all odds his toughest job is to convince the world that the pavements of the capital are colder in summer than the malamute trails of Little America. He takes that job very seriously.

Rising in wrath at Mrs. McAdoo, Hodges started to issue a public statement. But it was the hottest, most humid day of the year and even the newspapers, staunch in civic pride, just laughed at him.

Locals and Personals

Eugene Vidal, assistant secretary of commerce for aviation, commutes by air to Rehoboth, Del., on the sea. Arriving there, he circles his plane over Mrs. Vidal's cottage, whereupon she jumps into the car and drives to the landing field. (Everybody in Rehoboth, where hundreds of Washington wives, summer and husbands, weekend, knows Gene's comings and goings.) General Johnson's speech attacking Hitler's executions was excused because it was an "unofficial, personal utterance." But the NRA publicity office issued the text as an official NRA release—No. 638, in case you wonder how many publicity releases Johnson's boys have sent out to date. . . . Secretary Ickes tried to keep his vacation departure secret knowing that his star-eyed young brain trusts in PWA, etc., would flood him with matters which "must" be approved before he left if the nation were to survive. But McIntyre spilled the news at the White House. Burdened, groaning messengers and piled-up hand trucks were soon headed down corridors toward Ickes' office.

So reckless eaters, like ailing patients, had better be careful. Many a traffic accident, no doubt, has come from the spiritual split of too much quinine, or the toxic effect of a mess of sauerkraut or half a mince pie.

Local Man Speaks at Bluffs Meeting

Chalmers Giffen and R. E. Welch went to Bluffs Tuesday night to attend a joint meeting of members of the Winchester Kiwanis club and the business men of Bluffs, who are considering the organization of a club in that community. The meeting was held in the basement of the M. E. church, with about one hundred men in attendance. C. W. Chambers presided as chairman.

Mr. Giffen was the principal speaker of the evening, delivering an address on the "Life of Alexander Hamilton". Members of the Winchester club explained the advantages of a Kiwanis organization. The reaction of the Bluffs citizens was favorable to the project.

Woodland Inn will be serving Fried Chicken Suppers this evening.

Communist Hall Wrecked in Wake of Strike

As the general strike crisis subsided, groups of furious men, reportedly including union strikers and their sympathizers, ranged through San Francisco raiding and wrecking Communist headquarters and halls. The barred arrangement at the rear of this hall is a baseball rack like those at carnivals, where Communists threw baseballs at figures representing William Green, A. F. of L. chief, Ed Vandever, head of the San Francisco Central Labor Council, Ed McGrady, federal conciliator, and others.

Aboard SS Malolo, July 23—The big thing you hear about on the Pacific side of the world is the great exposition at Melbourne, Australia, in October. It's the tourist's great round-up. Is where that greatest of all air races is to end, fifty thousand dollar price from London to Melbourne, 12 thousand miles. We have over a dozen of our crack flyers and over half the ships in it will be American made. Wish the army and navy would put a boy ship in there. Wiley Post hopes to make it in 50 hours keeping the championship in Oklahoma. I would love to be with Wiley. I could be his navigator. I have flown that very same route thousand of the twelve from Singapore to London on the Dutch line. Hope to see lots of aviation on this trip.

The Girls Get a Kick Out of This

Preparing for the Women's National A. A. U. swim championships in Detroit late this month, these four members of the Washington Athletic Club relay team get a kick out of developing their leg action, using planks to support their bodies. They are, left to right, Mary Lou Petty, Hazel Brooks, Doris Buckley and Olive McKean.

The final step which the distressed debtor can take after all other means have failed is to file an application in bankruptcy under the recently adopted Frazier-Lemke amendment. This amendment was adopted as a result of the refusal of a small minority of creditors to make any voluntary settlements. Under its provisions the Federal judge is authorized, in case no agreed settlement can be reached, to permit the debtor to remain on his farm for five years on payment of a rental fixed by the court, and to re-purchase the farm at the end or during that period on payment of an appraised price determined by appraisers appointed by the court. There is no plan included in the amendment which provides a plan for refinancing the farm at the appraised value.

The State Agricultural Conciliatory Committee recommends that every effort be made to secure adjustments voluntarily, through the county farm debt adjustment committees or with the aid of the county conciliation commissioner, before resorting to bankruptcy proceedings under the Frazier-Lemke amendment. This amendment will doubtless be helpful in certain acute cases, but in general the committee believes that the great majority of cases can be settled equitably with the aid of the county farm debt adjustment committees, with additional help when needed from the new county conciliation commissioners.

City Water Supply Safe, Test Reveals

Although the water in Lake Mauville has been depicted by drought, the city water filtration system is functioning perfectly and is delivering a safe supply to the city mains. Mayor W. A. Wainright Wednesday received notice from the state department of health, division of Sanitary Engineers, that the analysis shows the city water pure and fit for human consumption.

The last analysis was made July 11. Tests are made, according to U. S. Health Department standards, at regular intervals, and the city officials are kept informed as to the condition of the water supply. Never since the filtration plant has been in operation has there been an adverse report.

The Mayor has emphasized the necessity for conserving the water supply, as the intense heat has greatly reduced the lake thru evaporation. Sprinkling of lawns and gardens has been prohibited for the duration of the drought, and water is to be used only for purposes of human necessity.

Greenfield Plans Water Plant Survey

Greenfield, July 24.—At the last regular meeting of the city council regulations were passed authorizing the engineering firm of Warren Van Praas of Decatur to prepare preliminary plans for the local water works. This project was made possible by the approval of the $65,000 loan to the city by the Public Works Administration.

The construction work in all probability will not start before October and will take around four months to be completed. The water will come from wells sunk southeast of this city and the large reservoir will be placed on the city council lot.

It is expected to put around 75 men to work with the wages running for 50 cents for unskilled labor and $1.20 for skilled labor.

QUIET, restful motion over Illinois main roads cures that tired feeling and lets everybody enjoy riding—because the main roads are CONCRETE ROADS.

But where the pavement is too narrow for the traffic; or when you swing off the concrete on a rough road or street—then see how quickly the "back seat jitters" pop up again!

Your public officials are on the job to modernize the county roads, and the arterial streets in your city. Insist upon having the benefit of concrete paving for these improvements also! Anything less smooth and safe will never satisfy you—and may increase your driving costs!

PLYMOUTH ANNOUNCES THE SPECIAL SIX

RECENTLY you read about important reductions in Plymouth prices. This week Plymouth again makes news!

It's the introduction of the SPECIAL Six. It changes the picture in the low-price field.

We urge you to take a few minutes to see it... for two reasons. One of them is the car itself... and the other is the price.

You'll find a new "luxury" model... with the features that made Plymouth famous. Yet a 4-door Sedan costs practically the same as comparable models of the lowest-priced cars WITHOUT ALL THESE FEATURES!

Without spending an extra penny, you can own the Special Six with Hydraulic Brakes. Your family can ride protected by a Body of SAFETY-STEEL. You can have the comfort of Individual Wheel Springing and Floating Power without paying a penalty for these improvements.

Today the prices of "All Three" low-priced cars are virtually the same. Don't buy blindfolded. Don't let "habit" rule your judgment. Go see this Plymouth Special Six today... at any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer. Buy no car until you do.

PRICES AND FEATURES OF THE NEW PLYMOUTH SPECIAL SIX

4-Door Sedan	$620
Town Sedan	$655
2-Door Sedan	$580

HYDRAULIC BRAKES. Always equalized. Eliminate swerving. Save frequent relining jobs. Ask any Plymouth owner if he'd go back to mechanical brakes!

SAFETY-STEEL BODY. The best safety insurance that you can have on today's crowded highways.

FLOATING POWER Engine Mountings. They keep vibration away from you. You ride fully relaxed.

INDIVIDUAL WHEEL SPRINGING. The best of the so-called "knee-type" springs as used on the most expensive cars for a more comfortable back-seat ride.

MATTSON HURLS NO-RUN NO-HIT GAME IN LEAGUE

Yanks Beat Browns 5-4 to Come Nearer Tigers in Loop Chase; Home Runs do Trick

New York July 25—(P)—The New York Yankees advanced to within one game of the league leading Tigers today on the strength of home runs by umpire Ormsby, claiming the hit was a foul. Ormsby stuck by his decision, however, and when Dickey continued the argument sent the Yankees receiver out of the game.

Ed. Louis, July 25—(P)—The New York Yankees advanced to within one game of the league leading Tigers today on the strength of home runs by umpire Ormsby, claiming the hit was a foul. Ormsby stuck by his decision, however, and when Dickey continued the argument sent the Yankees receiver out of the game.

The Browns put on their big rally in the fifth, scoring three runs when the Sox got to Eldon Auker for three runs on as many hits and an error by Ervin Fox in the first inning. They scored two more in the second before Luke Hamlin was called to the rescue and he yielded Boston's sixth tally.

The Tigers then went to work on Wes Ferrell and his successor, Johnny Welch, scoring six times in the second to tie the score. The league leaders went out in front in the fifth on Greenberg's single, a walk and Fox's double and apparently had the game well in hand with Hamlin hurling effective ball.

In the eighth, however, a walk to Carl Reynolds and Julius Solters' double evened the count. Hamlin walked Bill Cissell to start the ninth and was backed in favor of "Schoolboy" Rowe. The youthful right-hander was unequal to the task. Bill Werber sacrificed and Roy Johnson followed with a double, scoring Cissell. Then Gehring let Reynolds' drive go through him for an error and Johnson scored.

Boston, July 25—(P)—With Pinkey Whitney and Marty McManus hitting timely home runs, the Boston Braves swept today's doubleheader with the Cincinnati Reds, winning the first game 2 to 1 and the second, 7 to 3.

Whitney hit his circuit blow in the fifth inning of the first game and provided the Braves with the margin of victory in a pitching duel between Huck Betts and St. Johnson. McManus came through in the nightcap, cracking out his four banger in the sixth with the bases loaded.

First released on lower-priced cars — "G-3" rolls up remarkable non-skid mileage records

If you think "all tires are just about alike today" just read the letters printed here.

By the thousand they've been pouring into Akron from fast, hard drivers; from dealers who know how tough the fast new cars have been on tires.

All of them hailing the increased non-skid mileage the new "G-3" gives.

Why "G-3" can "take it!"

What the public is discovering about this wonder tire today, we learned on the Goodyear test fleet months ago.

To prove it would stand up on today's fast-starting, quick-stop

DODGE: "G-3's" are all you say they are. The set on my Dodge has been driven 15,000 miles now, and the center diagonal tread is giving plenty of traction. All the mileage has been at high speed. The last set of tires wore smooth at 110 miles per hour.

CHEVROLET: "We looked up the record on the set "G-3" tires placed on our Chevrolet in September as the performance was so outstanding. Our sales were smooth at 16,250 miles. These tires show practically no wear." — W. S. J. Montague, N.Y.

FORD: "Have driven about 20,000 miles with absolutely no tire trouble. All of these tires still have good non-skid performance on our car and helps in turning corners. Our confidence in them is great."

TERRAPLANE: "Have driven around 20,000 miles and tires show practically no wear." — A. P. R. Golden, Ind.

Capture Radio Station

The whole episode was replete with unprecedented situations—Rebels, members of an outlawed party, had invaded the very headquarters of the government itself, killed the head of the government who a few hours before had been threatening to hang them for terrorism, and captured everybody in sight.

Earlier another group of Nazis had captured the government radio station and held it long enough to broadcast an announcement that Dollfuss had resigned and that Rintelen was head of the government.

The army and the Heimwehr, representing the power of the government, deployed in the square before the building, ordering the greatly outnumbered and comparatively poorly equipped rebels to surrender. They threatened to attack if they did not.

Fey, loyal government man, came to the balcony accompanied by two Nazi guards, who apparently were holding revolvers to his back, and negotiated for the release and safe transit to a foreign country for the man who killed his chief.

Against the threats of the Heimwehr and the army the Nazis threatened death to Fey and other prisoners unless they were allowed to go to Germany.

The extent to which the Nazis long looked forward to start a "putsch" against the government they had been harassing with bombs and incendiaries—prepared for today's coup was not clear.

General Misunderstanding

Nazi leaders exiled in Germany denied that their comrades at home were responsible for the outbreak.

It was clear, however, that there must have been some general understanding, since fighting broke out in Styria, where the Nazis were reported to have seized several towns in which they have many sympathizers.

After his release Fey made a radio speech in which he said that Dollfuss was shot in a separate room from the apartments in which the other cabinet members were confined.

The Nazis, he said, gave him and his companions an opportunity to see the wounded chancellor, who in his dying condition begged that his family be taken care of, and expressed

Mrs. Gien Bellomy and daughter, of Frederick, visited several days last week with relatives.

Thermometers in this vicinity registered from 108 to 115 degrees Friday and Saturday. Friday afternoon F. J. Hierman broke an egg in a frying pan and placed the pan on a piece of tin in the sun and within twenty minutes the egg was cooked.

Roland Beard and children, Rena and John, and Mrs. Charles Schnitzer and daughter, Patty Lou, were visitors in Jacksonville Friday.

The St. Peter's Ladies Aid Society will meet July 26 instead of the regular meeting in August.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wessler and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Clark and family and Misses June and Lois Brusell were visitors in St. Louis Friday.

WAIT HORNER RETURN

Springfield, Ill., July 25.—(P)—Unless Governor Horner returns to Springfield it is unlikely that any decision will be reached as to what disposition is to be made of the $1,000 reward the state posted for the apprehension of John Dillinger.

Mr. Horner and the governors of Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, and Minnesota united in offering rewards for Dillinger, each state posting $1,000.

Winchester business visitors in the city yesterday included John Heaton, the belief that bloodshed can be avoided in Austria.

The next time he saw Dollfuss the chancellor was dead, Fey said. The body still lay in his office at 9 p.m. (Dollfuss' family, composed of Frau Dollfuss and two children, was in Riecone, Italy. The wife was prostrated with grief when she learned that he had been slain.)

The family was vacationing with that of Premier Mussolini of Italy and Dollfuss himself had an engagement to see Mussolini later this week to talk about the future of his nation.)

Shot Without Warning

The disguised Nazis started their "putsch" by taking the radio station at the cost of four lives, and making the announcement regarding Dollfuss' resignation.

While machine guns barked out the story that the government was retaking the radio station, the chancellor was seized and the ministers captured. Dollfuss was shot without warning, officials said.

The army and the Heimwehr went to the large Ballhausplatz before the government building to rescue the head of the government.

Fey, loyal government man, came to the balcony accompanied by two Nazi guards, who apparently were holding revolvers to his back, and negotiated for the release and safe transit to a foreign country for the man who killed his chief.

Against the threats of the Heimwehr and the army the Nazis threatened death to Fey and other prisoners unless they were allowed to go to Germany.

The extent to which the Nazis long looked forward to start a "putsch" against the government they had been harassing with bombs and incendiaries—prepared for today's coup was not clear.

General Misunderstanding

Nazi leaders exiled in Germany denied that their comrades at home were responsible for the outbreak.

It was clear, however, that there must have been some general understanding, since fighting broke out in Styria, where the Nazis were reported to have seized several towns in which they have many sympathizers.

At 5:48 p.m. nothing happened, except that the demand was renewed.

Telephone Lines Cut.

A few minutes later the Austrian telephone and other communication systems cut off all intercourse with the outside world, leaving the conditions in Austria a mystery to other nations until the telephone was reopened several hours later.

At 6 p.m. Fey appeared on the balcony, and shouted:

"Rintelen is not coming," shouted back Neustrader-Sturmer from the street.

"We have agreed on Rintelen," responded Fey.

This appeared to anger the government emissary.

President Miklas has suspended the governmental powers of all persons imprisoned in the chancellery, he shouted. "You surrender within fifteen minutes or we attack."

Heimwehr men shouted defiantly all the while saying, "Woe to you if anything happens to our Fey," as they gazed upon the pale face of their beloved leader, held under threat by two political enemies.

Fey and the Nazis with him conferred at length. The captors wanted a promise of safe conduct to Germany.

The government said it would be given.

"But who will guarantee their safety?" asked Fey after talking further with Nazis.

"Fey as a member of the government," said Neustrader-Sturmer.

But the Nazis insisted upon the word of a high army officer before they finally let Fey out at 7 p.m.

Confirms Death.

Then the death of Dollfuss, rumored all day, was confirmed. His slain body lay in the office from which for two years he had tried to rule with an iron hand against the terrible odds supplied by an opposition which expressed itself with bombs and torches.

Not until yesterday had Dollfuss carried out his oft-repeated threat to have bombers hanged, and then the man executed was a Socialist instead of a Nazi.

Fey came out, pale but stern of face. He asked for a cigarette and went into conference with Neustrader-Sturmer as trucks trundled up for the men who had killed the head of the government and had been promised aid to a refuge while hundreds of men stood by, armed and able to destroy them as speedily as they took Dollfuss' life.

The rebels who captured the federal chancellery agreed to surrender the building on condition they were granted safe conduct across the German border," explained Neustrader-Sturmer. "This was granted. It is true that Chancellor Dollfuss is dead."

Speculation Rife.

These words gave the first official confirmation of the death of the little man who had ruled Austria, although earlier reports apparently had been sent out through government channels.

One of the 150 civil servants imprisoned along with cabinet members said that the Nazis forced them to stand in a court yard and hold up their hands and higher officials were threatened with death if they "so much as moved an eye" in the rooms in which they were held.

Four thousand guardsmen now are either in the city or its environs, fully equipped and ready for immediate duty on the strike front where last Friday one man was fatally wounded and 67 others injured, most of them shot by police when they sought to stop a loaded truck.

St. Louis, July 25.—(P)—Divisional coal code authorities today published formal notice of a public hearing here Aug. 6 to determine whether an emergency exists in the retail coal industry in St. Louis and to determine coast factors in this area.

A price schedule fixed here May 20

by code authorities as an "emergency" measure was cancelled Saturday by NRA officials at Washington after protests the rates were exorbitant.

Attorney-General Roy McKittrick, who last night demanded removal of three coal code authorities here for "unlawful, unreasonable, and unfair price fixing," has announced he will prosecute further price fixing attempts under state anti-trust laws.

SOME SALES MADE AT CHICAGO YARDS

Chicago, July 25.—(P)—Trading was resumed temporarily at the stock yards today under a truce between yard officials and striking handlers and approximately 30,000 animals were disposed of including all kinds of government-owned cattle.

Although no receipts except what was bid direct to slaughter houses were brought in, holdover supplies of hogs, cattle and sheep were put on sale in an effort to relieve congestion. Market operations were confined mainly to sporadic efforts of commission men to sell their holdings. The animals on sale were held over from Monday and Tuesday. Several major packers received direct consignments from outside loading points aggregating three cars of cattle, 78 cars of hogs and 28 cars of sheep.

Prices were nominal. Hog quotations in the abbreviated market were steady to 10 lower. About 5,000 head were put on sale and packers paid $4.55 to $4.65 for prime swine, going as high as $4.70 for some kinds. This peak was 10 cents off from Monday's high. Shippers took 200 and approximately 1,000 were held over.

Commercial cattle were fairly well cleaned up. Steers and yearlings sold at prices unevenly steady to 25 cents higher. There was little demand for common grass fed animals. The best bid for steers was $9.40. Some of the approximately 50,000 government owned cattle brought here from drought areas were absorbed in the day's kill. Others were shipped south for feeding and a few stragglers were shot. It was estimated the cattle population was reduced to 40,000.

Prices for lambs were lower, sales being made at $6.50 to $6.50.

Closing Curb Prices

MORE SUPPORT IS GIVEN TO STOCKS

By Frederick Gardner,
Associated Press Financial Writer.

New York, July 25.—(P)—The stock market got better support today, but still was a bit shaky after five successive sessions of decline.

Withstanding additional flurries of selling, the market rallied sufficiently to close a little higher on the day, although a number of issues dipped to new low levels for the year.

Grains pointed the way for a turn in financial markets. Corn rose 12 to 2 cents a bushel as headlines continued to emphasize the heat wave in the west and extensive crop and livestock losses. Wheat rallied 12 to 14 cents and rice advanced about a cent. Cotton finished unchanged to 15 cents a bale higher.

Volumes on the stock exchange totaled 1,348,060 shares compared with 1,565,120 yesterday. The Standard Statistics Co. average for 90 stocks advanced seven-tenths of a point to 72.1.

Rallying power of rails was limited in face of additional disappointing June earnings statement as compared with last year. Santa Fe, New York Central, Northern Pacific and Great Northern Preferred showed gains of less than a point at the close. Louisville and Nashville, which spurted 31 points, was an exception. Union Pacific dropped more than a point to a new 1934 low.

Gains in the more prominent industrials ranged up to 3 points. Inger-soll Rand advanced 2½ as directors increased the quarterly dividend payment to 50 cents a share from 37½ cents. General Motors sold fractionally higher in advance of the second quarter earnings statement, published after the close of the market, and showing net of 88 cents a common share, against 90 cents in the same quarter last year.

Chrysler, California Packing, J. I. Case, Hercules Powder, American Sugar, U. S. Smelting, Sterling Products and Pullman were among issues closing 1 to 3 points higher.

Packing shares, influenced by the Chicago strike of cattle handlers and weakness in livestock prices, failed to join the rally.

GROUND HOGS PLENTY TOUGH AMONG JERSEY FARMS AND ORCHARDS

Jerseyville, July 25.—Sylvester Morrison who lives five miles northwest of Fieldon on Route 38 was in Jerseyville Tuesday afternoon and reported that ground hogs have destroyed a large percentage of the crops on his place.

Morrison resides a short distance from the orchard of Henry Heiderscheid and conducts a waiside market at his place when conditions are normal and vegetables and fruit can be produced.

"Something will have to be done about the destruction of the groundhogs in western Jersey county," he said. "For several years I have sustained heavy losses because of the depredations of the animals."

"This year the pests are more numerous than ever. They are committing most of their damage at night during the present season of terrific heat and drought."

"I have guarded my melon patches a number of days with a shot gun only to have the groundhogs fall to appear. When I return the next morning there would be a number of fine melons with parts eaten out of them and left to sour and spoil."

The animals are occasioning a lot of damage again this year in the orchards of the Fieldon vicinity, he said. In the Heiderscheid orchards they are again destroying the apples growing on the trees."

RETURNS TO FACE FEDERAL CHARGES

Boston, July 25.—(UPI)—After an 11,000 mile flight from Elgin, Ill., Kenneth W. Mainland appeared voluntarily in federal district court yesterday to answer to a secret indictment charging him with conspiracy to defraud the government of tax on oleomargarine.

The indictment was issued July 10 with 16 others charged various persons with participation in an alleged fake butter racket in which oleomargarine was misbranded and sold as butter.

Mainland pleaded not guilty and furnished $2,500 bail. Mainland was a salesman and manager for an oleomargarine company in Elgin and is alleged to have had dealings with Albert Haddad, one of those named in the indictments.

Mainland was represented by George T. Carberry, state's attorney for Kane county, Ill. Carberry asked to have his client tried before a judge instead of a jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dimidile and Joseph Lindsay represented the Listerberry community in Jacksonville yesterday.

President Enjoys Hawaiian Vacation

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

Aboard Cruiser Houston with President Roosevelt off Hawaii Island, July 25.—(UPI)—After a day of fishing for giant swordfish under a tropical sun, President Roosevelt cruised around the Island of Hawaii this morning on his day to visit famed Kilaeua volcano.

The cruiser Houston will stop at Hilo, on the east side of the island from the swordfishing expedition on Makalawena banks, while the first president to visit the territory makes a hurried motor trip to the volcano.

With its surrounding tropical jungles and its fire pit of Halemaumau, known as the "house of everlasting fire" the active volcano is a center of Hawaiian legends. It is here that the fire goddess, Pele, most feared of native Hawaiian deities, is supposed to dwell.

Russel, Dunlap Eligible For Parole Soon

May be Paroled in 6 and 8 Months is Report

Andrew Russel sentenced Tuesday at Springfield by Judge Charles G. Briggie to serve 18 months in the federal penitentiary, on charges of misappropriating funds of The Ayers National Bank, will be eligible for parole within six months, it was reported at Springfield yesterday. M. F. Dunlap sentenced at the same time by Judge Briggie will be eligible within eight months, it is said. It is also reported that the government authorities will not insist upon their serving the full terms.

Both Dunlap and Russel, former officials of the closed Ayers National bank received sentences of 18 months in the federal prison and fines of $5,000. Dunlap had previously been sentenced to serve two years and pay a fine of $5,000 following his conviction on charges growing out of the bank's failure. The sentences meted out this week by Judge Briggie were given on charges of misappropriating funds of the Ayers bank.

C. J. Doyle, one of the attorneys for Russel conferred yesterday with Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie and Assistant U. S. District Attorney Marks P. Alexander, concerning Russel's departure for prison.

Following the conference, Judge Briggie stated that Russel might desire to start for prison early next week. He is scheduled to depart August 7, as is Dunlap.

While no official statement has been issued, it is believed an effort was made to secure permission for Russel to go to prison without the custody of the marshal. Such permission will probably be denied, it was indicated.

At Quneys in the federal building at Springfield yesterday recalled the case of Peter Van Heck and Alois DeKeyser of Kewanee, who three years ago made the trip to Leavenworth penitentiary in their own car.

Arriving at Leavenworth, they stored the machine, wired the marshal of their admittance to the prison, served eight months, were paroled, took their car out of storage and drove home.

They were sentenced from the Peoria federal court on national prohibition charges.

Following his sentence Tuesday, Dunlap was cheerful, feeling relieved that his long fight was over. He predicted that he would come back from prison and make another fortune.

Russel, however, seemed rather dazed at the sentence, even though he had known it was coming.

RUSSEL NAMED IN FORCIBLE DETAINER SUIT

A "forcible detainer" suit, a civil action, was begun yesterday by the Trustees of Illinois College against Andrew Russel in the court of Justice A. B. Opperman and a summons was issued notifying the defendant that a hearing would be held in the justice court July 30, for the purpose of finding out why property held by the college has not been turned over to the college.

Testimony during the trial of M. F. Dunlap in the circuit court of Morgan county last fall brought out that both Dunlap and Russel had deeded their homes to the college.

Records in the justice court show that a similar action was taken six months ago against Dunlap, and at that time an arrangement was made whereby Dunlap paid a monthly rental to the college and the suit was not pressed.

Both Russel and Dunlap have been ordered to Leavenworth penitentiary August 7 to serve 18 months terms.

Await Federal Approval; Fruit Crop is Ruined is Report

Carrollton, July 25.—The establishment of a C.C.C. camp in the city of Carrollton was given local approval here this week and now only federal approval is necessary. Members of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting here Monday afternoon, voted to sponsor the camp here. The Carrollton city council and Mayor W. Price Lindsey, at a meeting in the council room agreed to pipe and furnish water to the camp.

The organizing of a camp here has been discussed for some time, and if federal approval is given the camp will be established on the John Roth farm in the south east part of this city. The farm is all inside the city limits. The boys at the camp will be engaged in soil erosion work through out Greene county for six months. According to present plans, there will be 250 boys in the camp, under the supervision of three officers.

Ten technical men will be connected with the camp but will live in Carrollton. There also will be 16 Greene county boys to serve with 16 other boys as supervisors.

Fruit Crop Ruined

According to reports coming to this city from persons who have been in various parts of Calhoun county lately the fruit crop of that county has become completely ruined in the past two weeks, owing to the lack of water and the intense heat. For weeks water has been hauled from rivers for spraying purposes, and so acute has the situation become that not only this year fruit is being burned up by the sun, but hundreds of apple trees are dying completely from lack of moisture.

A local trucker went to Calhoun Saturday for a load of apples to be retained here, but returned with 12 sacks of early apples of which none were as large as a good sized crab apple, and the trucker reported that the variety of apples that ripened at this season of the year are literally cooked on the trees. Reports from that county are that the corn crop of Calhoun is practically ruined and that most of it will not make even good fodder or ensilage. Reports from the southern part of the county are that whole fields of corn have been soured while growing. Water in Calhoun has become very scarce and hundreds of wells and springs are dry and farmers are hauling water for miles.

Find Death of Charles Cox Is Accident

Orleans Man Killed Wednesday; Rites to be Friday

A coroner's inquest held yesterday afternoon to inquire into the death of Charles Cox, Sulphur Springs farmer, who was killed at New Berlin early yesterday morning in an automobile accident resulted in a verdict of accidental death. The jurors were Clark Stevenson, Allen Smith, Harold Kamm, Sam Davies, Walter Davenport and Len Fitzsimmons.

Cox was killed when the car he was driving overturned after the machine and an automobile driven by E. R. Zimmerman of Chicago sideswiped, at the first curve at the west side of New Berlin on the state highway. Osterloh, owner of the car, who was riding in the rear seat of the machine suffered only minor injuries and Zimmerman who was accompanied by his family also escaped injuries.

According to Osterloh the accident occurred as his machine was sideswiped by the Zimmerman car on the curve at two o'clock yesterday morning. The machine overturned a number of times and Cox suffered a fractured skull. Osterloh said he and Cox were going to New Berlin from Jacksonville when the accident occurred, and he thought the Zimmerman car "cut the corner." Cox was conscious when taken from the car but died at Passavant hospital about three hours later.

O. A. Morris who is employed at the rodeo near the scene of the accident was awakened by the crash and was the first to arrive where the tragic happening occurred. He said it appeared to him that the Osterloh car had turned over three or four times. He said Cox legs were wrapped around the steering wheel of the car and his body was lying partially out the door. He said there was no evidence of liquor near the wreck scene.

Dr. L. M. Fulton of New Berlin was summoned following the mishap and an ambulance from this city was ordered. Dr. W. P. Duncan of this city attended the injured man and found that he suffered cerebral hemorrhage and shock. Death occurred about 5:55 o'clock, yesterday morning.

Mrs. Rita Keele, left, whose picture was found in John Dillinger's watch, and Mrs. Anna Miller, the "Woman in Red," who according to Mrs. Miller's admission to Chicago police were his companions when he was killed by federal agents and police in Chicago.
